Please share any thoughts or questions you had while answering the above questions:

9 What would you do in the following circumstances?

a) A friend you have known well for several years confides that he keeps having thoughts of suicide. He is frightened and wants help, but he is afraid that revealing his feelings might ruin his career and family life.

As a friend, what would you do? What would you avoid?

b) Just by chance you happen to meet an old friend and found her very distressed, because her husband left her for good. He is now living with another woman. She feels worthless as a wife, because she couldn't make him want to stay and she doesn't know if she can possibly go on without him.

What do you think? And what as a friend would you do?

c) Your colleague in the office comes to you with a problem. She is being harassed by her in-laws and finds no support from her husband. Would you -

Personally go with her to speak with her in-laws and husband? -----

Ask her to leave the house, since she is economically independent? -----

Advise her to go back and discuss the problem with her husband? ---

Ask her to seek help from outside, like woman's organization? -----

Suggest something else? Give reasons. -----

10 While on duty at Saath, you come across the following persons. How would you respond?

- a) An elderly person rings up from Mehsana he says since last two years he is suffering from cancer. Now he is fed up with illness and life. He is willing to come to Saath but he does not have the money.

- b) A bubbly teenage girl in to say she is madly in love with a boy she sees daily at the bus stand. She wants to know what to do about it.

11 Is there anything else you would like to tell us about yourself.

If selected, I commit myself to be a volunteer at Saath for at least two years
